REGISTRATION OF GBI FACILITATORS AND MAINTENANCE OF CPD

1.0 PREAMBLE

GBI Facilitators are individuals and professionals with specialised knowledge of sustainability in the built environment. Due to the nature of this specialisation, GBI facilitators are expected to possess multi-disciplinary skills (in building sciences, architectural, energy etc). To properly discharge their obligations as trained individuals and bearing in mind the rapidly evolving knowledge-based sustainability in the built-environment, GBI Facilitators are expected to ensure that their knowledge and skills stay "current" to be relevant. Continuing Professional Development (CPD) is therefore a necessary framework for GBI Facilitators to remain "current" and be accredited with the GBI Accreditation Panel (GBIAP).

From January 2012, the GBIAP, who accredits and maintains the registers of GBI Facilitators, will require the submission of minimum CPD credits for renewal of registration.
